Eld. F. M. Tindler is preaching at Sycamore school house each evening this week, but will fill his pulpit at the Christian church Sunday morning.

Those wishing to take advantage of Wyatt's annual summer tour, should see Mrs. J. Joseph at once, as very little time is left in which to make arrangements.

Sale of City Property.

Hughes & Swinebroad report that they have just sold for Mrs. Biddle Robinson her property on Richmond street, to Mrs. Alice Walker, for $4000.

Dove Season.

As the game law in regard to doves, was lifted August 1st, the dove hunters may again try their skill. There will be little sport, however until the hemp is cut, which will be a few weeks off.

What it Takes.

"It takes a rich man to draw a check, a pretty girl to draw attention, a horse to draw a cart, a porous plaster to draw the skin, a toper to draw a cork, a free lunch to draw a crowd, and an advertisement in the home paper to draw trade. Send in your ad for the drawing."

School Trustee Election.

On last Saturday, August 7th, there was a school trustee election held in the county, but we are not able to give all the names of those elected, however we hear that A. J. Hammack was elected in Union district, to succeed R. F. Parsons, and A. K. Walker was elected to serve at West Point.

Rents in Lincoln.

Mr. W. P. Kincaid, of Garrard, has rented the Mark Hardin warehouse for this season and will buy and store tobacco in it. He also has a large house at Paint Lick and will be in the market at all times. In due time Mr. Kincaid will open a warehouse either at Kings Mountain or McKinney, where he will buy all grades of tobacco—Interior Journal.

Lancaster Colored Fair.

As we go to press, we are told by the management of the Colored Fair that financial success is assured by the large number of visitors who have come to the fair.

Secretary James Williams and President, Geo. Moran, together with the directors, have worked hard to make this the best fair the colored people have had and we believe they will succeed.

They took advantage of the famous Hamiltons Military Band, of Lexington, by giving a concert in Euclid Park Wednesday night. The music was fine and entertained the crowd perfectly.

MORE CONCERNING SEATTLE. Or The New York of The West.

Dear Record:

A few more facts may be interesting. The trite saying—"You cannot teach an old dog new tricks," does not hold good in my case. I have learned much since my arrival here, and I am bewildered when I consider the fact that I will not be enabled to grasp a small part of the wonderful changes that are taking place in this city and the surrounding country, where the possibilities, the push, industry and enterprise exceed all estimation.

Although I passed through Boston, New Haven, Chicago and many cities en route to this place, I have seen more strangers here than at any place, having met at least one hundred with whom I have no acquaintance whatever, and, as represented here, an introduction would avail nothing. The papers here are larger than those in most Eastern cities, and have a table of contents on the first page so that any article can be readily found. Of course I enjoy them, but the time of the arrival of the Record, the Interior Journal, the Climax and other Kentucky papers is hailed with delight.

Lumbering and fruit growing are among the chief industries. Blue grass, timothy, clover and alfalfa are grown. Fruit orchards sell for $1,000 per acre. I am told that pumpkins do not thrive here because the vines grow so rapidly that they drag the little pumpkins about so quickly that they are destroyed. There is a greater variety of crops grown in Kentucky, but those grown here yield abundantly.

Banks reflect the growth, commerce and wealth of a country. There are 26 banks here with capital from $500,000 to over a million dollars, and one hundred thousand to $300,000 surplus. This city recently gained 48 per cent in bank clearings, and 29 per cent in building, big buildings being planned and contractors being forced to refuse some contracts. In order to form some conception of the people here I note that 30,000 attend the exposition daily, and the street cars carry 400,000 people each day. The fair is a great success and several millions of dollars will be left here. The exhibits of Japan, Hawaii and other countries are highly instructive and I intend to bring Mrs. F. P. Frisbie some souvenirs. A visit to the government building is worth a year of reading and study. There we learned that we are destroying 20 billions of feet of lumber annually and raising only 7 billions of feet, and that it requires one thousand years for nature to restore one foot of lost soil. Hence the necessity of caring for soil.

A trip across and around Puget Sound, a finger of the mighty Pacific, was full of interest for me. Hills are washed down to fill up the tide flats to make room for railroad shops, tracks and large manufacturing plants. We are eating plenty of fish, and the boys at home would be delighted to join Percy and me in catching large, fine trout on Lake Crescent. In a nutshell, the beautiful parks, the superb homes, the business houses, the schools and other institutions that tend to uplift and elevate mankind, all conspire to verify the expression, "Westward the Star of Empire Takes Its Stand."

Truly,

M. D. H.

Definition of a Knocker.

A knocker is a moss backed swivel-headed, penurious, selfish, suspicious, whining, hesitating near-sighted fellow. His eyes have a fondness for scarecrows and skeletons; his ears seem to itch for grunts, groans and shrieks of distress. His voice seems a strange combination of the squeal of a pig, the bray of a donkey and the growl of an old coffee mill. Perfume to him is nauseating, but his nose laughs at a touch of carrion. He delights to talk the inequalities of life, the oppression of government, business failures and is a great prophet of evil. To him the future is a dungeon of horrors. He says conditions have grown worse for a long time, and will do so more rapidly in the future. He has all the horrors of memories without the pleasures of hope. He is miserable when he is happy and happy when he is miserable.

The suggestion of any improvement gives him a nightmare. Stagnation is his ideal condition. He does not believe in any outlay for the building of schools, churches, roads, bridges, waterworks, sewers, sidewalks, pavements, or any other public improvement because our fathers did not have all of them, and he does not believe in leaving these things for his children, but wants them to take care of them selves as he has done. He dwells among the tombs, holds close communion with the mummies, seems sorry that he is alive and is glad that he is going to die.

A knocker is worse than a wart on the public nose. He is a cancerous growth upon the face of social beauty. He is the tuberculosis of life. He is a crick in the neck, a catch in the back; the string halted balky horse in the team, a brake upon the wagon bound uphill, the leak in the steam chest of the engine, the discordant note in music. Men with healthful spirit for public improvement shun him as they would a leper, tread on him as a serpent and despise him as a howling coyote.—Jessamine News.

Prohibition Chautauqua.

Although the Chautauqua was a few days late, there was great interest manifested throughout the meeting. The afternoon services which were held in Court House were fairly well attended, and the night services held in the park drew unusually large crowds.

The special music was a most pleasing feature, being rendered by male quartets and violin solos. Hon. Frank S. Regan, the celebrated cartoonist, convinced his hearers of the fact that he was really the greatest "tax expert of the country," showing where the revenue comes from. This was fully illustrated with his famous cartoons.

Mr. Gardner, the cornet soloist, of national fame on account of having played with Sousa's famous band, rendered a number of very choice selections and also spoke convincingly on the "Confiscation of Property."

Chas. J. Hall, "The California Wizard" delivered a number of telling addresses, notably his sermon on the "Ministry of Love" Sunday morning at the Christian church. He also spoke at other times with telling effect on such themes as "Who takes the Consequences," and "Signs of Promise."

Among the most unique characters was Captain Stanley, who composed and sang songs, peculiar to his own style of both thought and music, which were heartily enjoyed by all that heard him. He was a converted comedian and spoke largely of his experience during the many years of intemperate living. His happy style and sincere method made him very popular with his audience. The two most popular songs were "Serving the Lord in My Own Weak Way," and "Kentucky is Going Dry."

Last of all and the most eloquent man was "Jo" Jamison, who closed the Chautauqua, with four most remarkable addresses, which convinced many people that George W. Bain was right when he said "I have heard Breckenridge, Marshall, and all the other great orators of the past half century, but Jamison beats them all." He is a worthy son of Ireland that has become by adoption a famous son of America. It was pleasing to many of his auditors to hear his tributes to the Southland and her noble people.

As a whole, the programme was good and awakened much interest in the cause of temperance. The purpose of such work is to inaugurate a campaign for State-Wide Prohibition. Much credit is due the local W. C. T. U. for their loyalty and persistence in bringing such talent into the community.

All of the churches in the city joined in the support of the chautauqua, which helped make it a great success.

Proclamation by the Governor.

Gov. Willson prepared a proclamation to the people of Kentucky calling upon them to assist the sheep owners and proper authorities in stamping out the disease of "scabies" in the State and to prevent the quarantine against Kentucky's sheep. It is as follows:

The Government inspectors report scabies in many sheep in Kentucky, and a calamity of a Federal quarantine on Kentucky sheep is sure to be imposed unless our people take action to stamp out the disease. The remedy is so simple that the prevalence of the disease is wholly due to neglect, and I will call upon every sheep owner in the State, for his own sake and for the sake of the sheep industry in Kentucky, to at once take measures to stamp out this disease, the remedy for which is simple and well known, and the cost of which is only a fraction of the inevitable loss if we fail to take the proper action. I have interceded with the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States to suspend taking measures to quarantine the sheep of Kentucky until we can have a reasonable chance to stamp out the disease ourselves.

In order to advise all of the County Judges and County Attorneys of the necessity of thorough and prompt action, I invite every County Judge and County Attorney in Kentucky to meet with the Kentucky Sheep Breeders Association at the Kentucky State Fair, at Louisville, on Wednesday, September 15, 1909, and all sheep breeders and sheep owners and their representatives are earnestly invited to attend at the same time in order that all may counsel together, and that such action shall be taken that we shall wipe out the disease, and avoid the great injury and loss which will happen to the State if we fail to act promptly. The loss which would be suffered by failure to act would amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars, as I am informed by the best posted men in the State, and it can be saved by good work and quick work at a very slight expense. Let us all cooperate to do our duty.

AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON,
Governor of Kentucky.

A Method Of Eradicating The Wild Onion.

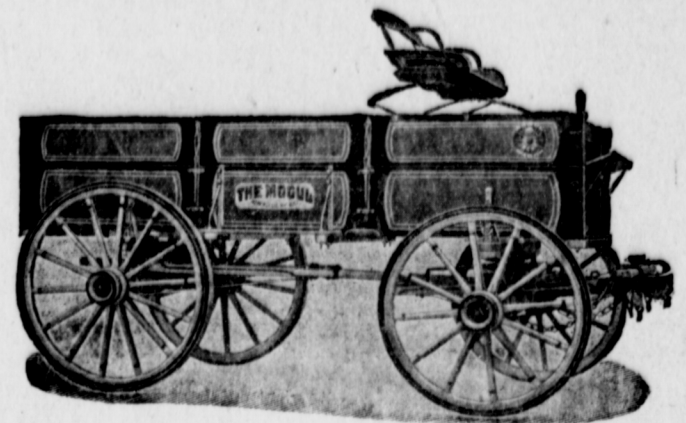

The office of Farm Management, United States Department of Agriculture, has now ready for distribution a circular giving a detailed discussion of the wild onion problem and outlining a plan whereby the pest can be exterminated. This circular will be sent free to any person requesting it.

Land Sales.

A big land trade was made between W. S. Hensley and W. T. King, when they "swapped" farms. Mr. Hensley gave Mr. King $40, per acre for his farm of 340 acres, near Buena Vista, at the same time, selling his farm of 121 acres, near Lowell, to Mr. King at $120, per acre.

Mrs. Edna Francis sold her farm of 100 acres on Buckeye pike, to Mr. T. L. Yantis, for $70, per acre.

Miss Mason, Hostess.

Miss Edna Mason was hostess at a delightful dinner party Tuesday. The table was beautifully decorated with with each place card. Pink candles and pink ices and mints carried out the color scheme. Covers were laid for the following:

Misses Ozale Young, Lettie Mae McRoberts, Sophronia Fox and Messrs. W. Fox Logan, J. S. Haselden, Louis Gill, Clay Kaufman, Horace Walker and Bascom Ford.

Eleanor Swinebroad.

After an illness of several weeks, Eleanor, the eighteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Swinebroad, died Friday evening.

The funeral services were conducted at the residence on Richmond street, by Dr. E. H. Pearce, Saturday morning, and the interment followed in Lancaster cemetery.

Though her soul is at peace with God, and her suffering ended, yet it seems harder for parents to give up one of such tender age, than an older one. The entire community expresses sympathy to the bereaved parents.

To Correspondents.

The splendid letters from Marks-bury, Union, and Buena Vista were omitted from this issue because they did not reach our office till Wednesday morning. Correspondents will please mail them, hereafter, on Monday, that they may reach us Monday evening.

WHAT THE GREAT OPERATIC ARTISTS ARE DOING.
Great artists like Meiba, Calve, Eames and others, devote as much care to the preservation of their physical beauty as to the development of their voices. Hair and complexion demand the greatest care. A smooth, velvety and rosate complexion in connection with a luxuriant head of hair will transform the most commonplace looking female into an attractive and fascinating woman.

Women in professional life thoroughly understand this fact. How often we hear the expression, "What a beautiful head of hair," or "What a lovely complexion," etc. Take a woman, for instance, of fifty years, whose hair has become streaked with gray. If she thoroughly realized that Q-Ban Hair Restorer would restore her hair to its youthful beauty and abundance, what would she not pay to become possessed of it, and if she knew that applications of the Restorer to the face would remove all pimples, blotches, etc., and improve the complexion a hundred fold, beside making her appear fifteen years younger, would she use it? Dr. Nott says that the new hair restorer practice, failed in one single instance to restore gray hair to color, depending solely upon Q-Ban Hair Restorer, and that for diseased conditions of the scalp, falling hair, dandruff, etc., or to increase the growth of the hair, the Q-Ban Hair Tonic was always to be relied upon. All druggists have it for sale. Try it. If you use six bottles and the results are not as claimed, your druggist will refund you your money.

R. E. McRoberts recommends and sells these preparations.
If you are gray haired or your hair commences to fade, you can have the first bottle free, simply call and ask for it.

Many farmers consider their orchards as strictly a side issue. If they would give the trees proper attention
they would derive a good profit.

A vessel of boiling vinegar kept on the stove when cooking cabbage, onions or other vegetables will counteract the odor, which is often offensive when the house is closed.

a selection of cows and heifers to breed to Stockwell, the famous imported bull now at the head of his herd.

fuge under a tree on a farm near Millersburg during an electrical storm were killed by lightning. Fourteen acres of tobacco, near Paris, was ruined by hail.

Have you tried dividing your pasture land in two and changing your stock every week or so? People who have tried it say that they can get at least one-fourth more profit out of their pastures in that way.

A Wisconsin man fed one of his cows 800 worth of feed last year, and her pasture, feeding, milking and stabling cost $11.50 more, making her total cost $71.50, but she produced $90 worth of butter, $17 worth of manure, $1 worth of skim milk, and a calf worth $5, making her total income $113.

A California horticulturist, it is claimed, has produced a white straw berry which bears all the year 'round.
This berry is the result of a long series of experiments with crossing varieties under different conditions.
The originator claims to have produced two distinct varieties of berries, which will bear through the full year.
One is white and the other red, and both are said to be of excellent flavor.

Frank Dittbenner, a German farmer of the Schweizer section, near Franklin, finished cutting five acres of what is perhaps the finest grade of tobacco ever raised in Southern Kentucky.
Three years ago, he commenced experimenting with Cuban tobacco, having secured the seed in Havana. By cultivating the suckers he will cut another crop about the middle of September, which he estimates will be about half of the first crop. The entire output has been contracted for at $20 per hundred, and will be shipped north.

teachings you wouldn't be sitting here drinking whiskey out of a bottle!" Hobo: "I profited, mum. Dey brought me up on a bottle!"

This would be unusual news if men and women would keep themselves free from rheumatism and all aches and pains as well as keeping their muscles and joints limber with

When Success Came.
"Was he a drinking man?" asked somebody of a woman who was testifying on the stand in regard to the habits of her husband. "Well," was the reply, "for the first six months after our marriage he didn't drink any at all, but after that he drank to great success."

Family and the Measles.
Measles should be something more than the consumption of food. All work stops at those times and people meet together. Nothing that can be done should be omitted to make it an occasion of agreeable interchange of thought and conversation, and when this is done not only the body, but the mind and nerves are refreshed.

Booth's Balm cures
PILES

The pain, the agony, the discomfort of piles are all quickly put to rout
by Booth's Balm, the powerful, eucalyptus, antiseptic ointment.
It relieves in five minutes; it cures to stay cured in a few days. Its soothing, healing properties penetrate right into the seat of the disease, and stop all inflammation, itching and distress
in a very short time.

And Booth's Balm is so low in price
that any sufferer can afford to use it.
A big box costs only 25 cents, and it is an almost miraculous remedy for scalds, burns, earaches, erysipelas, eczema, sore throat and chest, chafing and itching of skin, sores, chapped hands and face.

It is highly efficient in curing skin diseases, such as pimples and blackheads.

R. E. McRoberts sells Booth's Balm and will recommend it.
